

To whom it may concern,

I am writing to recommend Thomas Boyer as a Design Lead / Head of Design / UX Design Manager. Thomas was my manager at Aktana and also served as the Lead Designer as well. It was a great experience working with Thomas who was able to guide me through the complicated space that Aktana occupied as well as serve as a career mentor.

One of the biggest hurdles for me at Aktana was understanding some of the core concepts that the company was built around. Thomas went above and beyond to coach me through how AI was applied in product and guide me through the highly regulated space of pharma sales. He showed great patience and encouragement during that time, while allowing me to operate autonomously.

Thomas also helped round out my UX research skill set by helping me plan, set up and conduct user interviews. I definitely came away from my time working with him as a much stronger designer.

Any place that is lucky enough to add Thomas to their team should have the confidence that they have a strong and thoughtful leader on their hands. If you have any further questions regarding Thomas, please feel free to contact me at (415) 385-2039.
